This story is a mystery called One Of Us Is Lying by Karen M. McManus. It is book one of a series along with One Of Us Is Next and the yet to be released, One Of Us Is Back. I originally wanted to read this book because my friend told me that it was good.

This book is about 5 kids that end up in school detention together. Only 4 of them leave, the 5th one is murdered. The 5th kid, Simon, is the most hated kid at his school for the blog he has where he exposes people’s darkest secrets. There were 4 posts that were set to go up the next day. All 4 posts were secrets about the 4 other kids in the room. This story is about how the 4 kids, Bronwyn, Addy, Nate and Cooper work together to find out who the real murderer is.

I do like the main characters. They are all very different from each other. This book doesn’t remind me of anything else I’ve ever read, it’s very different. You will enjoy this book if you like romance and mysteries.

I loved this book and would highly recommend it. It’s very interesting and always leaves you on the edge of your seat. I liked the cover, it really catches your eye.
