Caitlin Alifirenka was just a basic girl in high school who really had nothing special going on in her life, until a special assignment was assigned to Caitlin and her class, writing to a pen pal! Caitlin was super excited about this new assignment in class, but little did she know that this letter was the beginning of a correspondence that lasted six years and changed two lives.

In the book I Will Always Write Back by Caitlin Alifirenka and Martin Ganda, the two main protagonists, Caitlin and Martin both experience a life changing “event”. A true story of a 12 year old American girl who befriends Martin, a young boy from Zimbabwe, Africa through a school assignment - being pen pals.

An adored non-fiction book like this attracts all people who love inspiring true stories that hit home. Not only does this story touch your heart but it also opens your eyes and allows you to be grateful for what you have more than you ever have been before.

I not only recommend the book but I encourage you to read it because it is truly beautiful. Originally, I had picked this book out because of the title, just the title seems so captivating and interesting, so does the cover.
